Psychology License

Doctoral Diploma

Psychopharmacology program completion or equivalent

Completion of a fellowship/internship of at least 1,500 hours in Medical Psychology or equivalent

Completion of national Oral and Written Examination (we recognize the Veritas, PEP, and the ABMP internal written examinations as equivalent and any one of these can be used in qualification for the Written Examination, but the Oral Examination must be done by an approved ABMP Examination Committee consisting generally of 3 Diplomates in the Specialty of Medical Psychology)

Note: The Specialist Requirements can be found at www.amphome.org by clicking on the appropriate left tab on the Home page. Note the following under 4c. on the requirements (and these requirements are in addition to the $150 application and credentials review fee):

4c. The oral examination administered by the American Board of Medical Psychology. A mutually convenient time and location will be determined. The format of the examination will be that of a "professional inquiry," collegial in nature, and designed to demonstrate fundamental medical psychological knowledge, clinical problem-solving issues, ethical considerations, cultural/ethnic/gender factors affecting patient care and similar content (Note: the oral exam is generally conducted by 3 specifically trained Diplomates and essay and case questions are drawn from an approved pool of items). To prepare for the Oral Exam, and upon request, we can assign you a Mentor to assist you with your preparation. The applicant will need to receive a passing score by two of three ABMP reviewers. The fee for the oral examination is five hundred ($500.00) dollars which is to be submitted to ABMP prior to taking the Oral Examination and progressing to the Written Examination. If a candidate fails to pass the oral examination, he/she will be allowed to take it again, at an additional cost of five hundred ($500.00) dollars. If the candidate fails to pass the examination the second time, they will be allowed to re-apply for Diplomate status in no less than one (1) year, without prejudice. The Board may require specific remedial work to prepare for the examination. The Five Hundred ($500) dollar examination fee covers both the Oral and Written Examination, but the Oral Examination must be passed prior to receiving permission to take the Written Examination. Upon passing the oral examination, the Candidate may either show proof of passage of one of the approved external written examinations (VERITAS or PEP), or take the ABMP Written Examination to complete board certification in the specialty. Upon completion of the Oral Examination, the Candidate wishing to take the ABMP written examination will be provided with an ID and Password to go to the appropriate section of the www.amphome.org web site and enter the CE Center and take the online written examination. Upon completion of both the Oral and Written Examinations the board will vote on conferring the Diploma as a Specialist in Medical Psychology.
